

Privacy Policy

Under the Data Protection Acts of 1984 and 1998, we follow strict procedures and do not disclose any customer information to third parties other than for delivery purposes. We do not sell, trade or rent your personal information to third parties for marketing purposes. When you place an order we collect your contact details (name, address, e-mail address and telephone number) so that we can contact you if there is a problem with your order. We may also monitor usage of our website and customer traffic patterns as this helps us to continually improve our service.

Occasionally we may e-mail you with deals, special offers and updates on new products. If you do not wish to receive this information, please notify us by e-mail. Cookies are small pieces of information that are stored on your computer's hard drive by your browser. Like most websites, we use cookies to keep track of the content of your shopping cart, to store delivery addresses, to store your details when you "create an account" and to monitor traffic flow to our website. Our cookies do not track any personally identifying information. Most browsers allow the cookie function to be switched off. This can be done by looking in the help menu in your browser.
